platform art

This fantasy map of the Piccadilly line has been designed by the artist Nils Norman. It shows a mixture of unrealised and fantastical buildings and systems alongside images of other artists' proposals. The map presents a vision of London as an ecological haven inhabited by Utopian and Dystopian machinery as an alternative to the more typical view of the city dominated by tourist attractions.

This work has been commissioned by Platform for Art, the art programme for London Underground, and is part of Thin Cities a series of works celebrating 100 years of the Piccadilly line. For details or to print a free version of the map visit tfl.gov.uk/pfa
